

Read it together

The pictures in Once Upon a Time bring together many favourite stories and nursery rhymes. Yet the words tell another story, about a boy's day where nothing much seems to happen, or so he says!

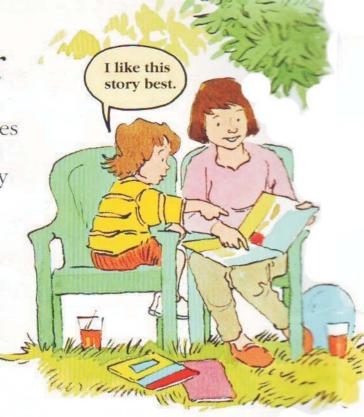

The humour in this book depends on children's familiarity with traditional rhymes and stories.

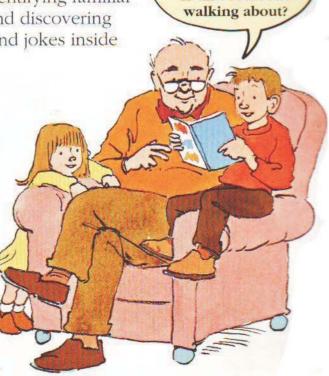

It's the three pigs building their house!

> Children will enjoy being "experts", identifying familiar characters and discovering the secrets and jokes inside this book.

The gentle rhyme helps children to remember how the story goes. They may want to read it to you. Don't worry if the words aren't always the same as those on the page. They will become more accurate with time.

Daddy's washing up. I look out. Is that someone walking about?

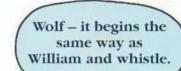

If they are reading and get stuck on a word, show them how to guess what it says by:

•looking at the pictures

•looking at the letter the word begins with bow -

• reading the rest of the sentence and That wolf's coming back to it. Always help them if they get really stuck or tired by giving them the word.

and words look by writing them down. Help them to write some of the words they know well, like family names.

Children will notice more about the way letters

His mum hasn't noticed the pigs.

This picture book offers lots to talk about. Children might wonder why the boy in the story can see all the different characters but his parents can't!

We hope you enjoy reading this book together.

He's hurt his toe so he's...

Howling!

For Jasmine

First published 1993 by Walker Books Ltd 87 Vauxhall Walk London SE11 5HJ

This edition published 1998

24681097531

Text © 1993 Vivian French Illustrations © 1993 John Prater Introductory and concluding notes © 1998 CLPE

Printed in Great Britain

ISBN 0-7445-5701-1

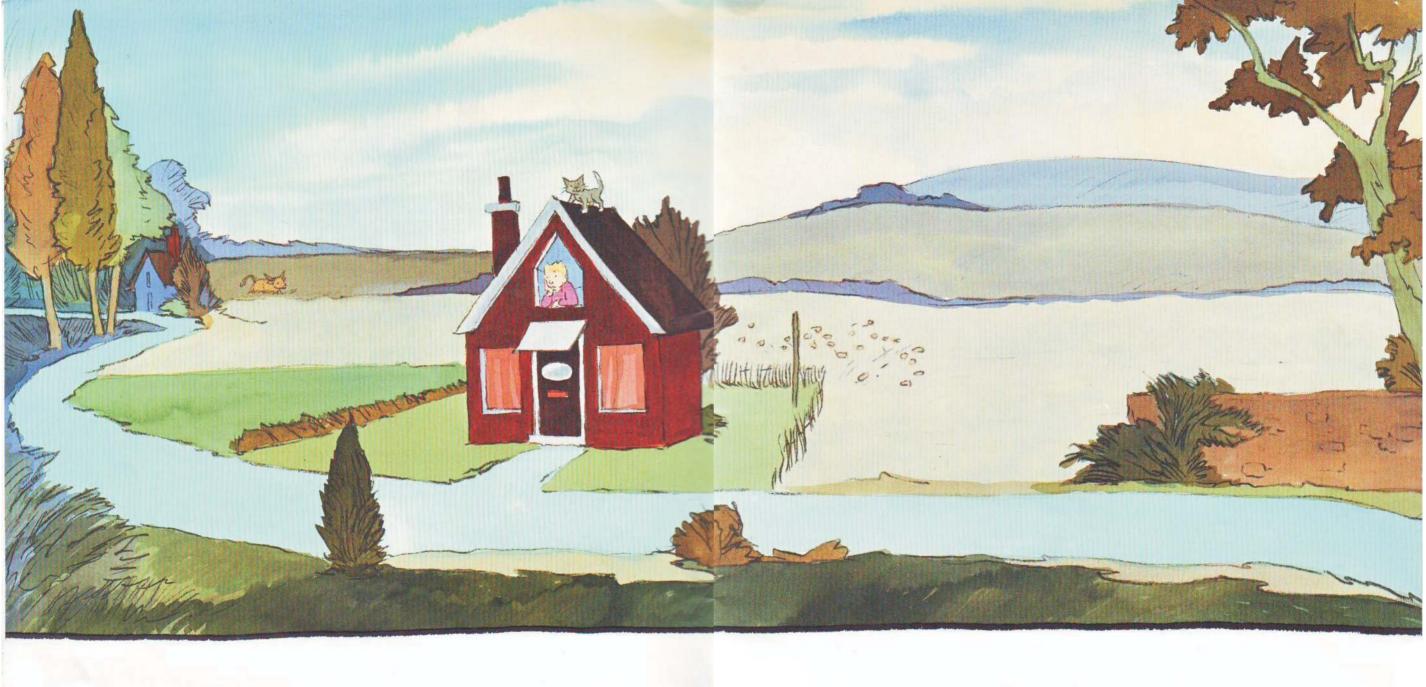

Conceived and illustrated by John Prater

Text by Vivian French

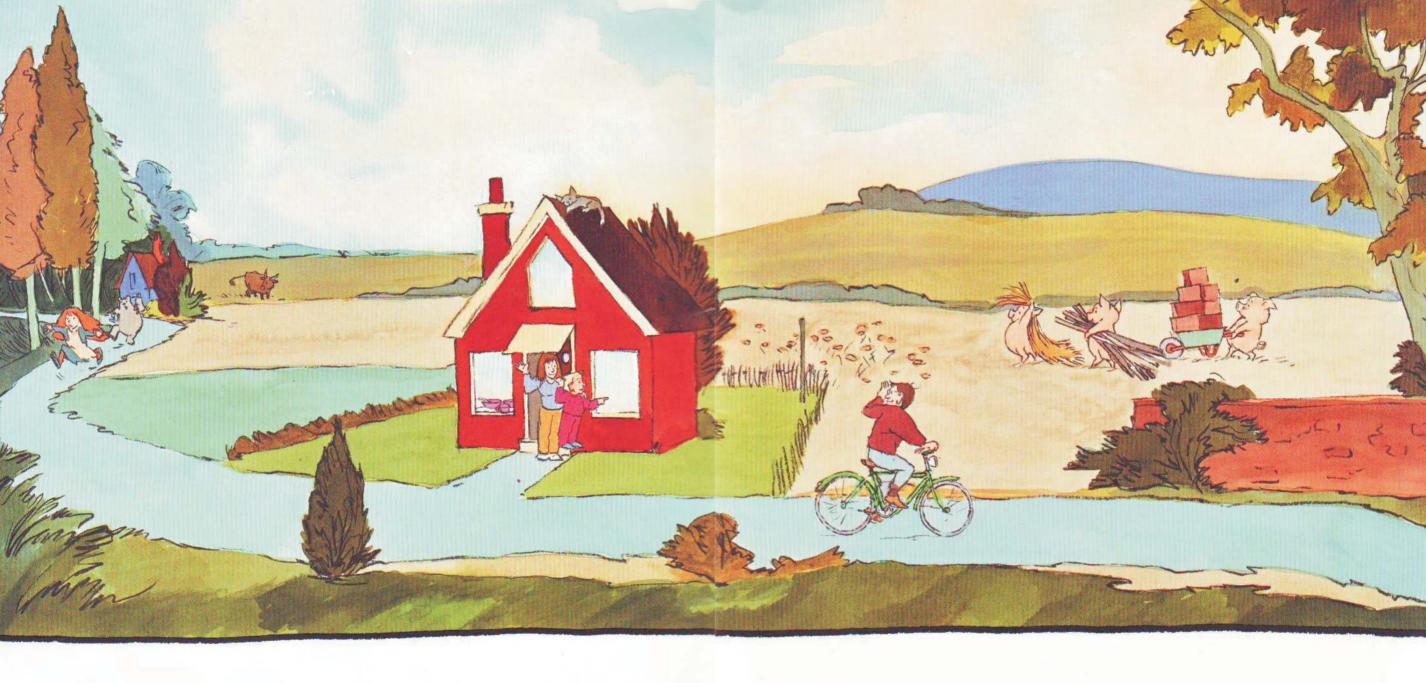

LONDON . BOSTON . SYDNEY

Early in the morning Cat and me.

Not much to do. Not much to see.

Dad's off to work now Mum's up too.

Not much to see. Not much to do.

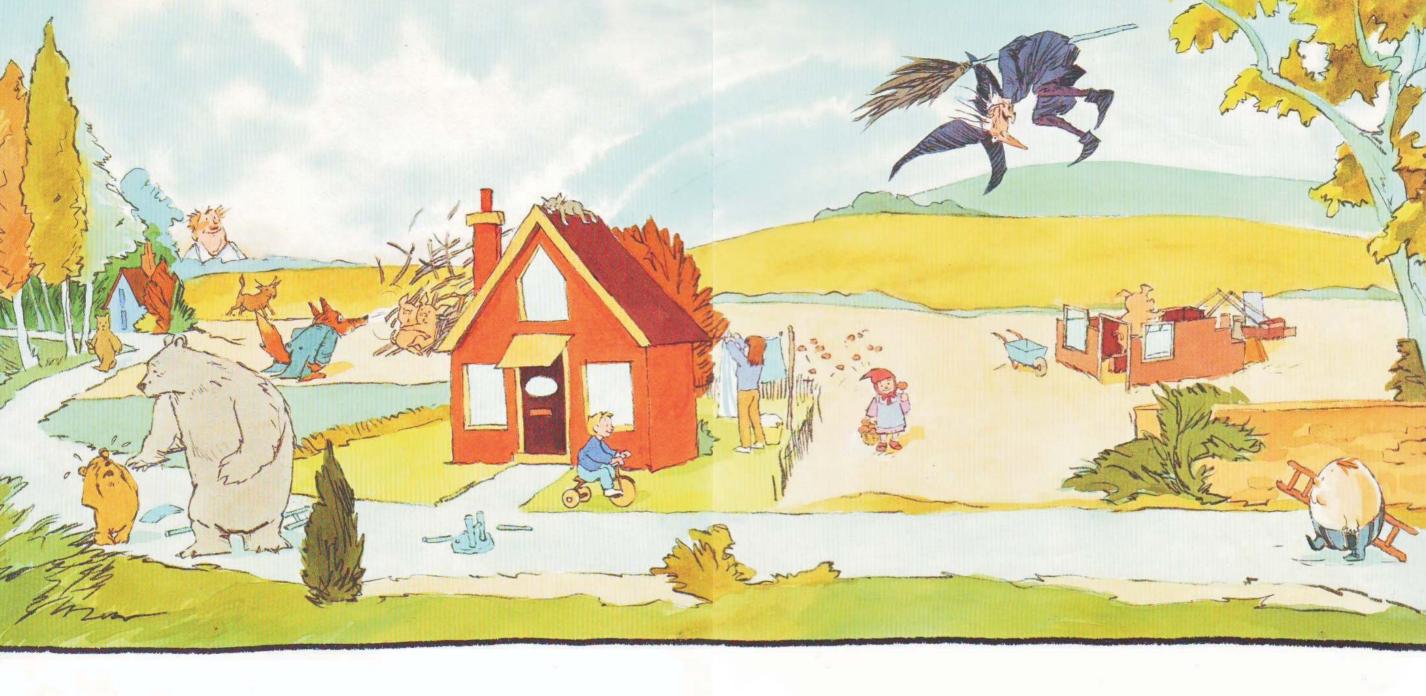

Day's getting older Sun's up high.

Wave to a little girl Hurrying by.

Mum's cleaning windows. Here's a bear Making a fuss About a chair.

Ride my tricycle For a while. There's an egg With a happy smile.

Mum's in the garden. Washing's dry.

Why do babies Always cry?

We've got sandwiches – Cheese today.

Why's that wolf saying "Come this way"?

I like jumping To and fro.

That wolf's howling— He's hurt his toe.

Mum's drinking coffee. We can chat. I tell her my jump Is as big as THAT!

Here's Dad home again! Time for tea. I wave to him And he waves to me.

Dad's washing dishes. I look out.

Did I hear someone Walking about?

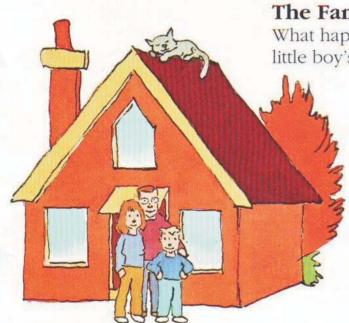

Time for my story. I yawn and say,

"Nothing much happened Round here today."

Read it again

There are many well-known stories and rhymes in this book. You can enjoy looking back through the pictures to tell the tale of each set of characters in turn. You could also find and read the original versions of these stories and rhymes.

The Family

What happens to the little boy's cat?

Who wants to blow their house in?

Goldilocks and the Three Bears

Who mends the broken chair?

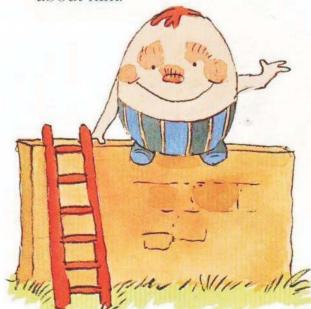

get cross? The Giant Whose tail does he tread on?

Can you sing the song about the cat and the fiddle?

Humpty Dumpty

Can you say a rhyme about him?

What happens

PB 15/13

Reading Together

Once Upon a Time

A small boy describes his dull day, while around him all manner of dramas are taking place with Goldilocks, the three little pigs, a wolf, Humpty Dumpty and a host of other favourite nursery characters!

Reading Together is a series of high-quality picture books, designed to entertain children, while helping them develop their reading skills. It helps parents too. In recognition of the vital role you play in your child's literacy development, every book contains its own set of lively support notes, suggesting useful and enjoyable ways of making the most of reading together.

The series has been developed in conjunction with the internationally acclaimed authority on language and literacy teaching, the Centre for Language in Primary Education.

